

CHRISTMAS EVE FOR CHILDREN

Santa Claus Will Visit in Nearly All of the Churches.

MANY XMAS TREES

There Will Be Gifts to Little Ones of All Kinds in Sunday Schools.

MUSIC PROGRAMS FINE

Tomorrow evening will be the gladdest night of all the year for the children and for many older people too, for Christmas eve with its happy anticipations, soon to be realized, has joys not even to be equalled by the cheerful realities of Christmas day. It will not be altogether an evening of anticipation either for many presents will be given and there will be many brightly illuminated Christmas trees, both in private homes and in the churches.

Nearly every church in the city will celebrate Christmas eve for the children of the Sunday school and in every instance the Christmas tree will be the center of the merry gathering. There will be gifts, popcorn and candy and in several instances Santa Claus has consented to be present.

Probably the most unique program will be that given in the Baptist Sunday school rooms at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. The members of the Sunday school, their parents and friends are urged to be in their seats promptly at the hour for when that time comes the lights will be put out and all sorts of mysterious happenings will occur. Miss May Felton and her committee have charge of the program and the strictest secrecy has been preserved concerning the nature of the program which is to be a surprise for the children.

The program will be brief and will be followed by the distribution of presents from the trees, one especially for the primary department and one for the Sunday school.

Court Street M. E. Church
The Christmas tree for the young people of the Court Street M. E. Sunday school will be gaily decked and hung with presents. Candy and apples will be distributed to the children and the exercises will be preceded by a program which will begin at 7 o'clock and which will be given by the children of the Sunday school. The following is the program:

Program.

Presbyterian Church
The Christmas festival for the children of the Christ Church Sunday school will be held in the Christ church parish house at 5 o'clock and instead of the usual exercises, "The Story of the Christ Child" will be told by members of the school. Those who will take part in the beautiful exercise are Margaret Goodwin, Josephine Doty, Lillian Russell, Mary Smith, Edie Jones, Elyse Fildel, Mildred Doty, Joe Haskell, Berna Putnam, Margaret Doty, Lucile Hyde, Evelyn Kavaleg, Katherine Carlo and Alta Fildel.
After the story has been told there will be the usual distribution of candy and Christmas tokens. No admission will be charged and parents and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend. The children of the parish too young to attend Sunday school are especially invited as the guests of the school.

Presbyterian Church
There will be two celebrations in the Presbyterian Sunday school rooms tomorrow. The primary department will have their good time by themselves at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and will entertain their parents with a brief program of exercises. They will have a tree with presents and candy and their teacher, Miss Matella Calkins, and her assistants, will see that they all have a good time. The Sunday school entertainment and Christmas tree will be at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at which time the following program will be given.

Program.
Piano Solo.....Robert Clark
Recitation.....Hazel Erenback
Vocal Duet.....Ronald Ains, Richard Jones
Recitation.....Hattie Decker
Recitation.....Miss Pearl Willey
Address.....Sup't I. T. Wortendyke

Congregational Church
The merry-making for the children of the Congregational church will begin at 6 o'clock and will be informal. Following the happy custom of several years the program will be voluntary and rather spontaneous. There will be no set program but it is expected that several of the children will recite or sing. The chief attraction will be the Christmas tree and its gifts. Boxes of candy and other goodies will be distributed.

St. Mary's Church
At St. Mary's church on tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock there will be a Christmas tree for all the children of the parish in the chapel of the new church. A Christmas treat will be given the children.

Trinity Church
The Christmas entertainment for the Trinity Sunday school will not be given until next Saturday evening, Dec. 28, in the guild hall. At that time there will be a supper and a Christmas tree and the Sunday school will present a cantata entitled "Mother Goose."

St. Paul's German Lutheran Church
The custom of years will be followed at St. Paul's German Lutheran church and two immense Christmas trees, brilliantly lighted and decorated, will delight a large audience tomorrow evening and again on New Year's eve. Tomorrow evening an elaborate program of songs and recitations by the children of the Sunday school will precede the distribution of the presents.

TWO CREMATED IN A RAILWAY WRECK

Freight Collision on the Northwestern Near Green Bay - Eight Cars Are in Ashes.

Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 23.—Two men were cremated and another badly burned in a rear end collision of two south-bound special freight trains on the Northwestern railroad early yesterday at Little Saumiceau.

The killed:
DELAIRIA, NAPOLEON,
GILMETTE LOUIS, both of Green Bay.
DeLairia was a baggageman and leaves a wife and eight children. Gilmette, who was 19 years of age, lived with his father here. Brakeman A. J. Burney of Escanaba was badly burned and is now here at the general hospital, with good chances of recovery.

The first train in charge of Conductor Green and Engineer Henry Oliver had reached Little Saumiceau when Oliver stopped his train on the main track to take water. The night was frosty but clear. Suddenly a headlight of the special behind shot out from a curve near the depot, and a few seconds later the collision occurred.

DeLairia and Gilmette, who run on Conductor Moran's passenger train, were on their way to Green Bay to spend Sunday with their families. They were sleeping when the crash came and were killed instantly. Burney, the rear brakeman, was also in the caboose at the time, but he finally escaped from the burning wreck. The bodies of DeLairia and Gilmette, burned almost beyond recognition, were brought to the morgue in Green Bay.

ANTI-VICE FIGHT IS ON IN BELOIT

Ministers in Wisconsin Town Unite in Crusade and Declare Mayor is Ignoring the Law.

Beloit, Wis., Dec. 23.—The several churches of the pastors of which are members of the Beloit Ministerial Union, in this city, were unusually well attended yesterday forenoon, because of the announcement that the preachers would discuss the question concerning the increase of vice here.

The speakers talked along the same line, alleging that there was an unusually bad state of public morals, and charging the mayor with being responsible to a large degree for the situation. Rev. T. T. Creswell, Dr. George R. Leavitt the Rev. R. A. Bosworth and the Rev. Howland Hanson discussed the question at their respective churches.

The speakers stated that they were compelled to believe the rumors that indicate that public vice was permitted to go on, and that no reasonable diligence was exercised to stop it. They asked the mayor why this was—whether he was incompetent or untrue to his pledge.

CREW SAVED BY BREECHES BUOY

Scalding Steam Sweeps the Car ferry Muskegon at Ludington.

CREW'S SUFFERING

Rescued by Life Savers After Being in Peril for Over Nine Hours.

ONE DEAD; 3 SCALDED

Ludington, Mich., Dec. 23.—Life savers at this station worked four hours yesterday morning in terrible weather to save the survivors of the car ferry Muskegon of the Pere Marquette line, which was wrecked in the harbor here. Thirty-three men were brought over the churning ice in the breeches buoy. Then the body of a dead man was seated in the buoy and sent ashore for burial.

While entering the harbor Saturday night during a high southern gale, the car ferry, now known as Pere Marquette 16, struck a bar, instantly disabling her machinery and breaking the main feed steam pipe.

For a few minutes scenes of horror caused by the escaping steam prevailed aboard the boat. Luke Taft, a coal passer, whose home is in Chicago, was scalded to death. Two other coal passers, unknown, were in the marine hospital, hovering between life and death.

Many others who escaped from the prison-like hold of the car ferry hard-burned and suffered untold hardships during the nine long hours which preceded their rescue. The accident happened at midnight, and during the remainder of the night there was neither light nor heat on the boat. Great seas rolled across the deck and the wind was bitterly cold.

Left without power, the car ferry drifted against the north pier, where she pounded heavily, storing in several large holes in her forward quarter.

His Boat is Scuttled
Thereupon Captain Thompson ordered the scupperns opened and the boat was scuttled in sixteen feet of water. When day broke the life-saving crew by means of their cannon, threw a line to the wrecked craft and began rescuing the crew with their breeches buoy apparatus. The entire crew of thirty-three men and the body of Taft were taken off the wreck in this manner.

One by one the men were hauled over the churning ice on the suspended cable. The operation continued four hours and was witnessed with breathless interest by an immense crowd of people. It is believed that the No. 16 will prove a total loss.

An attempt will be made to pump her out today, but unless weather conditions are perfect it will be almost impossible. Great banks of ice surround the boat on all sides. Boat and cargo are valued at $200,000 and are fully insured.

SULTAN ORDERS AMERICANS OUT

Naturalized Citizens Are Required to Give Up Allegiance to the United States.

Constantinople, Dec. 23.—The authorities at Beirut, Syria, have notified naturalized American citizens that they must renounce their naturalization within fifteen days, otherwise they will be expelled from Turkey. Spencer Eddy, First Secretary of the Legation at Constantinople, has made an energetic protest in the matter. He has written the Turkish authorities, demanding the withdrawal of the measure. The incident may become serious owing to the absence of a naturalization treaty.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—There has been a dispute between this country and Turkey over the question of citizenship and naturalization for more than fifty years.

A treaty of naturalization was ratified by the senate as between the United States and Turkey in 1874, and ratifications were exchanged between these two countries the following year. The senate amended the original treaty, and some time after the ratifications were exchanged the Turkish government asserted that it had signed the amendment treaty under misapprehension.

The question at issue then was whether a two years' allegiance should or should not be taken as evidence that a naturalized citizen desired to renounce himself.

Turkey took the ground that if a Turkish citizen came to the United States, was naturalized here, and then returned to Turkey, a residence there of two years was proof positive that he had returned to his Turkish allegiance.

AN OLD FASHIONED ENGLISH CHRISTMAS

London, Dec. 23.—There is every prospect of an old style English Christmas. Exceptional cold prevails throughout England and some provincial villages are completely isolated by snow.

WILL STAND BY THE CIVIL RULE

Philippine Governor Denies the Request of General Chaffee.

KILL 19 FILIPINOS

Some Hard Fighting Among the Insurgents at Lobo, Province of Batangas

ARREST TWO PRIESTS

Manila, Dec. 23.—General Chaffee has requested that the province of Taybas be again placed under military rule owing to the concentration there of insurgents from the provinces of Laguna and Batangas, who are fleeing from the Americans under General Bell. Acting Governor Wright has refused the request, believing that the constabulary, co-operating with the garrison will be sufficient to preserve order in Taybas.

General Davis, who with the concurrence of General Wade, the department commander has made a similar request for the re-establishment of military rule at Misamis, Island of Mindanao, in order to facilitate the suppression of the aggravating disturbance prevailing there. It is reasonable to expect minor disturbances during the approaching dry season after the harvest is gathered, as the people of the provinces will then be occupied.

Nineteen Filipinos Killed
A detachment of the First Cavalry under command of Lieutenant Telford have had an engagement with insurgents at Lobo, province of Batangas. Nineteen of the rebels, who were armed with rifles, were killed. Lieutenant Telford reports that the insurgents frequently attack supply trains and that his troops are in frequent contact with them.

Two native priests and two presbyterates have been arrested for aiding the insurgents. In addition to this charge a charge of counterfeiting is made against them, an outfit for making bogus money having been found concealed behind the altar of the church where the priests officiated.

Commissioner Ide III
Commissioner Ide, who has been sick for a week is going to the hospital. His sickness results from overwork. All the commissioners are working very hard. The absence of governor Taft cripples the efficiency of the government. The newspapers are agitating for the appointment of an additional lawyer on the commission.

The transport Meade reports having encountered a typhoon, during which three of her boats, and her hatches were smashed and her cargo damaged. There were several accidents to her engines and ice plant during the passage.

SENATOR DEPEW'S WEDDING IS NEAR

Deeply Impressed with the Cardinal, Foreboding Interest in His Forthcoming Marriage.

Paris, Dec. 23.—Chauncey M. Depew in radiant spirits and robust health, and bronzed by a sea voyage, passed in Paris quietly and congenially with a few friends his last Sunday of his single life. He seems deeply impressed with the cardinal, whose interest taken in his forthcoming marriage.

Much to his astonishment his secretary brought him a collection of clippings from American newspapers relating to the impending event, which so far exceed 4,000 in number.

Mr. Depew left last evening for Nice, where his wedding with Miss May Palmer will be celebrated on next Saturday at the Rev. Mr. Adamson's American Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Depew will return to New York on the St. Louis, sailing from Cherbourg on Jan. 4.

BOTH APPEAL TO KING OF ENGLAND

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—Consul General Wilson at Santiago, Argentina, has cabled the state department that all diplomatic resources between Argentina and Chile seem to have been exhausted and Argentina appealed to King Edward to arbitrate. Chile claims this is exactly the course she adopted two weeks ago.

COAL SHORTAGE DUE TO LACK OF CARS

Indianapolis, Dec. 23.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers says that shortage of coal throughout the United States is due almost entirely to the lack of cars to transport the coal from the mines. The great activity in other branches of industry has taken many cars and as soon as cars can be obtained plenty of coal can be obtained.

Expect to Compete with America.
Glasgow, Dec. 23.—Messrs. Stewart, casting pipe makers, have ordered 20,000 tons of Newfoundland iron from the Dominion Iron company at a price which, they believe, will enable them to compete with the American and German makers.

MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY TO RESIGN

Three Professors of the State University Offer Better Positions, and Will Leave.

Madison, Dec. 23.—It has transpired that the object of a recent meeting of the board of regents of the university of Wisconsin, in Milwaukee was to consider the resignation of three members of the faculty, Charles Homer Haskins, professor of European history; Paul S. Reinsch, professor of political science, and Bathazar H. Meyer, professor of institutes of commerce.

The resignations, though coming at the same time, are in now preconcerted, but are the result of independent action, all of the men having received flattering offers from other institutions. Professor Haskins has been called to a chair of European history at Harvard; Professor Reinsch to one in political science at Leland Stanford, and Professor Meyer to the chair in the faculty of political science at Columbia University, New York, which was recently made vacant by the tragic death of Professor Richmond Mayo-Smith.

MUSICAL EVENT AT MILWAUKEE

Arions Will Present the Messiah at the Exposition Hall on Friday Night.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 23.—The sale of seats for the Messiah to be given at the exposition Friday evening, December 27 by the Arion Musical club is indicative of the prediction that the 4,000 seats will be sold before the night of the concert. The demand for seats from out in the state exceeds anything known in the history of the club. Singing societies in Janesville, Watertown, Sheboygan, Racine and Kenosha have sent in orders for large blocks of seats and it is expected that from this source alone there will be over 1,000 visitors to hear the first of the club's jubilee concerts. 1,200 seats have been reserved for the members of the state teachers' association who will be in session here that week and it is also announced that Booker T. Washington will be a guest of the society at the conclusion of his lecture.

FORTY-FIVE LIVES LOST IN A FIRE

Buried Under Ruins of Burning Market-House at Zacatecas—Were Saving Goods.

Antonio, Texas, Dec. 23.—By the burning of the city market house at Zacatecas, Mexico, fully forty-five lives have been lost and over a score of persons seriously injured, some of them so badly that they cannot recover. Fifteen bodies have been taken from the ruins, and a large force is at work clearing away the debris in order to recover others, though there is no hope that any of those caught in the collapse of the big structure will be found alive.

It is impossible at this time to learn the names of the victims. Among those caught in the collapse were several of the minor officials charged with the management of the buildings.

The market-house was one of the largest buildings in Zacatecas, and was owned by the city. Its lower portion was composed chiefly of cold storage cellars, in which local merchants stored their perishable goods, and it was in the basement section that the fire originated.

The flames had gained such headway when discovered that the entire building was seemed to be doomed, and the efforts of the firemen and citizens, who were directed to saving goods from the storage compartments in the basement and on the first floor.

Hundreds of men were formed into gangs and were busily engaged in the work of saving goods when the entire superstructure, weakened by the rapidly spreading flames, collapsed without a moment's warning, crushing and burying dozens of those engaged in the work of salvage.

Those who escaped uninjured from the blazing ruins were so panic stricken that it was some time before an organized attempt at rescue could be made, and in the meantime the moans and cries of those who had not been killed outright could be heard. Many of them begged to be killed before the fire could reach them, as they saw there was no hope of rescue.

POPE LAMENTS STATE OF CHURCH

Rome, Dec. 23.—In the Vatican throne room at Rome today the pope received twenty-sixth Rome cardinals who presented to his holiness the season's greeting. The pope replied to the address in a firm voice. He lamented the condition of the church declaring it was the fault of the directing classes. He also deplored the socialism and the subversion of the people against the church.

THEY ALL FEAR THE PRESIDENT

Army and Navy Circles Discuss His Action in Schley Case.

MAY STOP TALKING

Bitter Rebuke of General Miles May Serve to Silence Acrimonious Bickering.

MACLAY VERY ANGRY

New York, Dec. 23.—Has President Roosevelt succeeded in "snuffing out" the Schley controversy? This is the question, says a Washington dispatch, that is being asked on all sides in Washington. Nothing else is talked of in army, navy and congressional circles than the sensational rebuke to General Miles, the dismissal of Historian MacLay, and the rejection of Admiral Dewey's opinion that Schley was in command at the battle of Santiago and approval of the findings of the court against Admiral Schley.

Admiral Dewey continues to observe his determination of not discussing the Schley case for publication. A friend who is acquainted with his opinions said today the hero of Manila had rather expected the department to disapprove his action in rendering an opinion on the question of command during the battle of Santiago.

The admiral looks upon approval by Secretary Long of the failure of the majority of the court to submit a finding on the command as a quasi-ensure but he is not at all disturbed over it.

As indicated the President is determined that the practice of army and navy officers violating discipline and the regulations by giving interviews about matters which it is manifestly improper they should discuss, shall cease. He will be no respecter of persons, and any man who sins in this way in the future will feel the displeasure of the department with which he is connected.

It is expected that the resignation of Mr. MacLay as a special laborer at the Brooklyn navy yard will be received by the navy department Tuesday. Rear Admiral Barker, in command of the yard, will immediately communicate to Mr. MacLay the request of Secretary Long that he resign.

MacLay Will Not Resign
Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—When Secretary Long was told today that Edgar Stanton MacLay had said he would refuse to resign from his position in the Brooklyn navy yard because he was protected by the civil service rules. The secretary remarked that he felt disinclined to discuss the matter in the absence of knowledge of the circumstances under which Mr. MacLay made the statement.

"As to the right of removal," he said, "my impression is that the rule laid down by President McKinley, which is still in force, gives a civil service employee three days in which to comply with a request to resign." When asked if MacLay would be removed if he declined to accede to the request for his resignation, the secretary replied:

"To that I can only say that the President's intention will be carried out."

Rear Admiral Schley's plans for the future include several long visits to friends, which will keep him from Washington all winter. He will never probably make his home here again.

BRIGANDS AGREE TO TAKE $70,000

London Telegraph Says Agreement Has Been Reached for Release of Miss Stone

London, Dec. 23.—According to a dispatch from the Sofia correspondent of the Telegraph, an agreement has been reached between the American legation and the Belgian brigands by which Miss Helen Stone is to be released on payment of $70,000. It is said the ransom is to be paid on Bulgarian soil, and she will be liberated in Turkish territory.

With the thermometer below zero and a cutting wind to face they soon found their clothing frozen and enjoyed a experience they do not care to repeat.

Tax Upon Cyclists.

The handsome sum of nearly 5,500,000 francs has been brought into the treasury of the French republic by the tax upon the cyclists during the year 1900.

The tax was first imposed in the year 1894, and was paid by 235,036 persons.

In 1895 it was levied upon 238,084, in 1896 upon 229,816, in 1897 upon 408,806, in 1898 upon 484,414, and in 1899 upon nearly double that number—338,856. The tax upon motor carriages in 1900 was paid by 2,897 persons.

Toll the Sea Takes.

The toll which the sea takes from those who trust it for a livelihood is pathetically illustrated in the announcement that the fishing season just closed has cost the port of Gloucester, Mass., the lives of no less than 6 of its stalwart fishermen.

Great Paper Plant Burns.

Hamilton, O., Dec. 23.—The Champion Coated Paper company's plant, the largest in America, was burning to the ground at midnight. The entire city fire department was fighting the flames in an effort to keep them from reaching the main building, erected at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. The loss will probably reach $1,000,000, with insurance of about $500,000. As a result of the fire 600 employees will be thrown out of work.

Agree on the Stone Ransom.

London, Dec. 23.—According to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, an agreement has been reached between the brigands holding Miss Stone captive and the American legation at Constantinople, under the terms of which the brigands are to accept £14,000 for the release of Miss Stone. It is said the ransom is to be paid on Bulgarian soil and that Miss Stone is to be liberated on Turkish territory.

Aged Man Kills Son-in-Law.

Pittsburg, Dec. 23.—John W. Moore, an aged soldier, shot and killed his son-in-law, Thomas Mawhinney, at the latter's home in Bellevue. Mrs. Mawhinney, it is said, had complained to her father of abuse on the part of her husband. After the killing Moore gave himself up, saying that Mawhinney had driven his first wife to suicide, but that he could not repeat the offense, as he had killed him.

Sheep Guides in Blizzard.

Denver, Col., Dec. 23.—John W. Springer, president of the National Live Stock association, has a pet sheep on his Douglas county ranch which takes the part of a St. Bernard dog during the blizzards which imperil the lives of men and cattle on the ranges. The sheep has proven an unfailing guide in snow and storms, when men, stock, and even collie dogs were utterly lost.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 23.—Henry C. Payne, the newly appointed postmaster general, says he hopes to see penny postage in the near future.

Exchange Seat Sells High.

New York, Dec. 23.—A seat on the New York Stock Exchange was sold for $75,000. This is the highest price ever paid.

FUNERAL SERVICES; WILLIAM W. PORTER

Eloquent Tributes to the Memory of a Good Man at the Congregational Church Yesterday.

No more eloquent tribute was ever paid the memory of a good man than that which spoke in the large assembly of sorrowing people who gathered at the Congregational church yesterday, drawn together by love for William W. Porter and by sorrow over his death.

The funeral was one of the largest ever held in the city, the main floor and the gallery of the church being almost filled with those who mourned in a common sorrow.

The central section of the church was filled with members of the orders to which Mr. Porter had belonged in life: Janesville Council No. 108 United Commercial Travelers, Oriental Lodge No. 22 Knights of Pythias and Janesville Lodge No. 55 and Western Star Lodge No. 14, Free and Accepted Masons being largely represented.

A large number of business men from other cities, especially those in the tobacco business were also present.

The service at the church was preceded by a brief prayer service at the home, 151 East street, south, at which only the relatives were present.

Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated both at the home and at the church. The casket was completely covered with a mantle of choice roses, carnations and chrysanthemums, mute but eloquent messengers of sympathy, while near the casket, on the pulpit platform stood the handsome special designs from the various lodges and a number of beautiful bouquets of cut flowers.

Rev. Denison's tribute to Mr. Porter's life was an eloquent one which found an echo in the hearts of those present. He referred to the fact that love and human sympathy, not formal custom, had drawn the people together and then he spoke feelingly of those qualities in Mr. Porter's life and nature which had inspired the universal love of all who knew him.

The man who makes others love him renders them the highest service in his power and is a Christian benefactor.

Such a man was William W. Porter and the qualities which made him loved were his honor, his friendliness which made him the friend of those who needed friendship most, and gave a cheerful word where cheerful words were most needed; his love of home and his faith in the eternal.

When his hands grew weary and his heart weak, his work was laid aside and his health failed then his mind took up the tasks of childhood days and the prayers which he learned at his mother's knee.

He went out from life not as one who knows not where he is going but to meet the welcome of his father's hand. The things which men loved in him are the eternal things, the Christian virtues and when a life clothed in the radiance of those virtues goes down into the eternal, long after there shines in the hearts of those who know him the afterglow of its beauty, just as when the sun goes down the western sky is radiant with gold and purple and opal tints.

Christianity is no formal thing no set of words at those things which make the spirit sweet and tender and which are the beautiful things of life.

The song service was especially beautiful. A quartet including Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Mrs. S. B. Lewis, C. N. VanKirk and William Bladen sang "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Goodnight, Farewell," exquisitely and Mrs. John G. Rexford sang "Not Lost But Gone Before," by Shelley so beautifully and feelingly that there were but few dry eyes in the audience.

Mrs. F. F. Lewis played the organ accompaniments.

At the close of the impressive service the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being Thomas B. Earle, Dr. Harold W. Child of Edgerton, Dr. E. D. Roberts, E. M. Calkins, F. S. Baines and S. B. Heddles.

Sultan Orders Americans Out.

Constantinople, Dec. 23.—The authorities at Beirut, Syria, have notified naturalized American citizens that they must renounce their naturalization within fifteen days, otherwise they will be expelled from Turkey. Spencer Eddy, first secretary of legation at Constantinople, has made an energetic protest in the matter. He has written the Turkish authorities, demanding the withdrawal of the measure. The incident may become serious, owing to the absence of a naturalization treaty.

Fatal Shot at Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Ark., Dec. 23.—Charles Moore, a hotel keeper of this city, this afternoon shot and killed James A. Garner and mortally wounded his brother Will, after they refused to take a drink with him. After the shooting Moore returned to his house and, securing a Winchester, came downtown and gave himself up to the sheriff.

2,000 Weavers Go on Strike.

Zwickau, Saxony, Dec. 23.—Two thousand weavers have gone on strike, owing to a difference over the number of hours which they are required to work. The manufacturers show no inclination to recede from their position, and it is feared that great misery and riots will result.

Doctor Sentenced to Hang.

Butler, Mo., Dec. 23.—Dr. James L. Gattrell, 70 years old and for several terms a representative in the Texas legislature from Abilene, has been sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 13 next for the murder of D. B. Donegan, a miner from Cripple Creek, Col.

Woman Candidate's Account.

The election expense statement of a woman candidate for a membership on the school board in Newburg, N. Y., is: "No talk, no money, no promises, no solicitation, no intimidation, no bribery, no cigars or 'schooners'."

Flames Kill and Injure.

New York, Dec. 23.—Two exciting fires occurred in the afternoon, in one of which a man was burned to a crisp and several were hurt by senseless jumping from a second-story window.

This blaze broke out in a four-story building at 17 Center street, one block east of Broadway. Henry Hollender was badly burned in trying to put out the flames. After the fire was extinguished and the building about burned out, the firemen found the charred body of Isaac Ell on the third floor. In the excitement attending the arrival of the fire apparatus and ambulances a wedding was about to be performed in a synagogue, opposite the burning building. The occupants of the house became panic-stricken, and the bride fainted. Several were hurt in the crowding. In the early afternoon fire started in a five-story building at 2-26 Read street. The loss will reach $60,000.

Entire Town Threatened.

Calro, W. Va., Dec. 23.—Fire threatened to burn the entire town here. It destroyed the Dunlap hotel, National Supply company's store, McGregor's office building, C. E. Haddox's hall and tenement house, the opera-house, Mrs. McGregor's tenement house, and the residence of the Rev. H. C. Sanford. A freight train ran over the hose and then the water supply gave out, threatening the entire town, but water was finally pumped direct from the pumping station, and the town was saved. The loss is about $50,000; insurance not more than $15,000.

Fireman Loses His Life.

Huntsville, Ala., Dec. 23.—In a fire which burned the store of the Alabama Feed and Implement company, and destroyed or ruined ten other stores, one fireman, Hanes Cochran, was killed and another, John Colburn, seriously injured. The property loss was $40,000.

Block in Office Burns.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 23.—A big business block, owned by Samuel R. Reynolds of Chicago, was destroyed by fire. The loss is $250,000. One fireman is dying from burns.

Hill Gets Big Fee.

New York, Dec. 23.—David B. Hill has filed a bill for $7,500 for legal services in connection with the Molineux case. The district attorney has approved it and it will be promptly paid.

SULLIVAN GUILTY; IS FINED $2,000

Jury Bribing Case Reaches Verdict After Taking Three Ballots.

DEFENDANT LOSES HIS NERVE.

Chicago Lawyer's Face Deadly Pale
When Fate Is Disclosed and Perspiration
Rolls from His Forehead—Saved from Jail by Court.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—By a verdict reached at 2 o'clock Sunday morning and returned in Judge Smith's court at 10 o'clock, Alexander Sullivan was found guilty of conspiracy to keep James J. Lynch, indicted jury-briber, away from Chicago. The verdict carried with it as punishment a fine of $2,000. Should the jury have desired it could have sent Mr. Sullivan to prison for from one to five years, or could have given him both an imprisonment and a fine not exceeding $2,000.

Three Ballots Taken.

Only three ballots were taken by the jury before agreeing on a verdict of guilty. Before voting the case had been reviewed, and after the second ballot there was further argument on one disputed point. On the first ballot eleven were for conviction and one for acquittal. On the second there were two for acquittal. The third ballot resulted in conviction. The case will be appealed on the ground of error if the motion for a new trial is overruled.

Sullivan's Face Blanches.

When the jurors filed into the courtroom Mr. Sullivan eagerly scanned the face of each man. None of them looked at him. Divining this as an ill omen the respondent immediately blanched and nervously hitched his chair closer to that of Attorney Hardy, who defended him during the trial. When the verdict was announced Mr. Sullivan entirely lost the coolness which usually he maintains and turned deathly pale. A moment later the perspiration streamed down his face.

Action for Disbarment.

Being convicted, the bond under which the lawyer has been free during the trial lapsed, and he faced a day and night in the County Jail. Bonds are not approved on Sundays. However, Judge Smith came to Mr. Sullivan's rescue and allowed him his freedom until Monday morning to appear in court with a new bond. Assistant State's Attorney Barnes said he was satisfied with the verdict, as all he sought was a conviction.

Given Day's Freedom.

As a result of the verdict disbarment proceedings will be begun in the Illinois Supreme Court by the Grievance committee of the Bar association. No date has been set for the trial of Attorney Edward Maher or George P. Murray, both of whom were indicted with Mr. Sullivan.

Mrs. Barnes' Petition Fails.

Jacksonville, Ill., Dec. 23.—Arguments in the petition for change of venue asked by Mrs. Mamie Barnes, who is charged with having poisoned her husband, Dr. Joseph Barnes, in this city last April, were completed before Judge Thompson in the circuit court and the motion was overruled. The state filed sixty-eight affidavits from citizens who believe there will be no trouble in securing a fair trial here. The case was set for trial for Jan. 13.

Will Build Railroad in Alaska.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 23.—L. C. Dillman has returned from New York, where he sold twenty-eight copper mining claims in the interior of Alaska for $1,200,000. He says the London syndicate to which he sold the claims has decided to build a railroad from Valdez, Alaska, to the claims, a distance of 140 miles. The cost of the road will be about $3,500,000.

Burns Herself to Death.

Stout City, Iowa, Dec. 23.—Emma Stillwell, aged 26, burned herself to death while laboring under a fit of insanity caused by religious excitement. She opened the neckband of her dress, poured kerosene between her clothing and her body and set fire to the fluid with a match.

Rubbers Hold Up Stage.

Ukiah, Cal., Dec. 23.—The south-bound stage between Laytonville and Willits was robbed half a mile above the latter place. A registered mail pouch and the express box were taken. A man named Evans has been arrested and is now in jail at Willits.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Dewey is again confined to her room with a severe attack of bronchitis. When she is able to travel the Admiral will accompany her to Palm Beach, Florida, to remain until spring.

SCHWAB TALKS ON TRUSTS.

Head of the Big Steel Concern Heard by Bankers.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, for the first time gave public voice to his opinion of trusts and combinations at the seventy-seventh meeting and banquet of the Bankers' club of Chicago at Kinsley's Saturday night. He declared that the trust of old had been founded on mis-conception and prompted along lines of self-destruction, and that it was a dead business proposition that could never again return to trouble the people. The combination of to-day, he said, had an entirely different purpose from that of the trust, inasmuch as it sought to expand rather than restrict trade, and that it was a combination that could be depended upon to maintain a level of prices rather than to raise them during periods of great demand and lower them to ruinous figures in order to stamp out competition. W. B. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency, had for his subject "The Coming Century." Mr. Ridgely said in part: "Our task for the coming century is to take our proper place in the trade of the world. Whatever may be our views on the question of the expansion of our territory, we cannot avoid the expansion of our trade. It has already come, is daily extending, and we must and shall take the place in the trade of the world our position and resources entitle us to."

Hay Quarrel Ends Fatally.

Lawton, Ok., Dec. 23.—Twenty-two miles northwest of Lawton John Roberts shot and killed George and John Higginbottom, brothers, and probably fatally wounded their father, G. N. Higginbottom, as the result of a quarrel over the division of a quantity of hay. Roberts shot George and his father from behind, killing the boy instantly. He then shot John while the latter was attempting to raise his wounded father. While John lay on the ground he managed to empty his revolver at Roberts, but without effect. Roberts then coolly bent over his prostrate foe and killed him. He then mounted his horse, rode home, bade his wife good-by and left.

Germany Claims Canal Way.

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 23.—A dispatch from Washington announcing that the German government claims the exclusive right to navigate the San Juan river and Lake Nicaragua under a concession granted to the Atlas Steamship Company has created excitement throughout this country. It is declared that the concession in question was forfeited a month ago under a decision of arbitrators, because of failure to comply with the terms of the contract. In any event, one of the articles of the concession declares that it shall not be an obstacle to the construction of the Nicaragua canal.

Four Die in Farmhouse Fire.

Dubuois, Pa., Dec. 23.—The farmhouse of John Ashbaugh, near Summerville, was destroyed by fire and four persons were burned to death. Five others are seriously burned and injured. The dead are: William Ashbaugh, 22 years old, a brother of the owner of the house; Maybel Ashbaugh, 12 years old; Harry Ashbaugh, 10 years old; James Ashbaugh, 9 years old. The injured are: Herman Ashbaugh, 8 years old, fatally; Mrs. Ashbaugh, seriously burned, leg broken and injured internally by jumping from a second-story window; John Ashbaugh, the husband and father, seriously burned and suffering from exposure; two young children, painfully burned.

Nansen Wins Chicago Suit.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—A ruling made by Judge Cutting in the probate court will secure to Prof. Fridtjof Nansen, the famous arctic explorer, a fourth interest in the estate of the late Mathias Blessing, a well known resident of the north side who died several years ago leaving about $50,000. The ruling was the dismissal by the court of the petition of Mrs. Martha C. Cunningham of Chattanooga, Tenn., to be appointed administrator of the estate on the claim by her that the estate left by Blessing was hers by right and had been secured by Blessing illegally.

Forcing Up Price of Coal.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Never before in the history of the country has the advance in the price of coal been as great as within the last week. Dealers are united in the statement that this big advance is not due entirely to the cold weather and other natural causes but always have more or less effect upon the market. Many claim the almost unheard-of advance is the result of a desire on the part of mine operators and the railroad companies to force up the price of fuel to an almost prohibitive figure.

Kills His Mother in Nightmare.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 23.—As a result of a shocking tragedy Henry C. Krause of 50 Rogers street is violently insane at the central police station. Krause during a horrible nightmare strangled his aged mother to death. Awakening and discovering his awful deed he spent the night until daylight in prayer and at 8 a. m. he hurried to the home of his pastor, Rev. J. H. Wefel, and related the awful story. The minister took Krause to the police station. Krause raves in his cell.

GEN. MILES IS REBUKED.

Secretary Long Upholds Verdict of Benham and Ramsay.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Secretary Root Saturday sent a formal letter to Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles censuring him for publicly endorsing Admiral Dewey's verdict in the Schley case. President Roosevelt criticized General Miles when the latter visited the white house. Secretary Long approved the verdict of the majority of the court of inquiry against Rear Admiral Schley and dissolved the court. E. S. Macley, who called Schley a coward in his history of the navy, was ordered to resign his position in the government's employ. General Miles was reprimanded because he had given public expression in a newspaper interview of his conviction that Admiral Dewey's verdict in the Schley inquiry was just and accorded more nearly with the facts disclosed at the inquiry than the verdict of Admirals Ramsay and Benham.

Governor Crane's decision on the offer of the treasury portfolio will be known to-day. Telegraphed the President yesterday that he had mailed a letter. Selection of successor to Secretary Long depends on his decision.

Secretary Long has declared Macley will be forced to quit the service of the navy as the President ordered.

Hope for Western Ranges.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 23.—Railroads with headquarters in this city are considering the project of reseeding all the western ranges. The preliminary portion of the scheme involves extensive experimentation with the cultivation of different range grass seeds. The plan includes the ranges of Utah, Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada and Idaho. The railroads expect the government to aid. The different states to be benefited will also be asked to contribute a share of the general expense. R. C. Judson, industrial agent of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, is now in charge of the experimental farm of his road at Walla Walla, Wash., and is already making careful preliminary tests for the promoters.

Ticket Forgers Rob Roads.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 23.—A gang of forgers of railroad tickets has been operating in Kansas City successfully during the last few weeks, according to H. C. Townsend of St. Louis, general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific. "The losses of the western railroads will amount to thousands of dollars," said Mr. Townsend. Dozens of forged tickets have, it is said, been secured by the railway officials. Mr. Townsend has telegraphed for C. C. McLeod of Chicago, chairman of the Western Passenger association, to come to Kansas City as soon as possible to join in the effort to find and prosecute the ticket forgers.

Death Keeps Up Deadlock.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 23.—With the probable settlement of the long Carnegie library site squabble less than an hour away, Robert C. Coyner, a member of the library board, fell dead here. Mr. Coyner was a representative from the east side of the river and his vote was counted on to break the tie and locate the building there. Several weeks ago the council went on record as against making an appropriation for a library site and recommended to the library board that it accept a west side free site made possible through the donations of citizens.

Pet Pony Kicks Girl to Death.

Springfield, Ohio, Dec. 23.—Miss Beale Campbell died at her home near Plattsburg late Saturday night from injuries sustained by her pony kicking her. She went out to the barn to feed her pet, and the animal kicked her. When found in the barn she was unconscious and was carried to the house. Every effort was made to save her life, but she died shortly before midnight. Coroner J. M. Bennett prepared her body for burial. He says there were no marks and that her death was very peculiar.

Find Petroleum in Egypt.

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 23.—Operators employed by the petroleum syndicate, after working two years at Gobel Gelt, near Suez, have encountered petroleum, said to be at a depth of 3,115 feet.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The story seems to have gained general credence that if Governor La Follette falls to receive the nomination in the next republican convention that he will run on an independent ticket.

While the governor does not seem to be directly responsible for this report, some of the organs that represent him are. It may be another case of fool friendship which is frequently more disastrous than open opposition, or it may be another case of Haugen. In either event the governor will be the loser.

The man who makes a threat directly or who permits it to be made for him, places himself in the attitude of an overgrown boy, and the people have but little patience with this sort of politics.

The republican convention that convenes next summer to nominate state officers, will be republican in fact, as well as in name. The nominees of that convention will be the regular party nominees. If Governor La Follette aspires to succeed himself, it will be necessary for his name to appear at the head of the regular republican ticket.

If his friends entertain the notion that by holding his head under a popular, democratic, sorehead combination, they can fool the people into the belief that they are voting the republican ticket, they are very much mistaken. There will be but one republican ticket in the field and that will be placed in nomination by an orderly party convention.

The question that Governor La Follette is asked to meet, and he might as well face it first as last, and he governed accordingly, is, "Can I do business with the republican party in the state, and submit to associate gracefully with the legislature that will convene a year hence?"

The last session of the law makers was a farce, because a majority of the members were not in sympathy with the governor's hobby. There will be no farce about the next session. It will be largely composed of a class of men who are directly opposed to the governor's scheme. They will not be state appointees or servants of the chief executive, but independent men, elected by the party, for the express purpose of saving it from fanaticism and theoretical reforms.

If the next administration is harmonious and successful, it will be necessary for the governor, whoever he may be, to work in harmony with the legislative branch.

These are the conditions that confront Governor La Follette this early in the campaign. They are not visionary, nor overdrawn. In fact, they are so apparent, that he who runs may read. Governor La Follette may possess political ambition, but if he has the courage to face these conditions, with the notion that he possesses the will or the ability to compel the party to endorse his visionary schemes, he is in a deplorable condition.

There is only one wise thing for the governor to do, and that is to get in line with a majority of the party that elected him to office, and recognize the fact that the party is greater than any one man connected with it. This may be humiliating, but is not dishonorable. It will be more difficult to accomplish than it was last January, when conditions were ripe for harmony. It all depends upon the size of the man. If the governor is equal to the emergency, the effort is worth the powder, both from a personal and party standpoint.

This talk about an independent candidate is the height of nonsense, and if the governor has any influence with his friends who encourage it, he will call them off.

ROCK WITH GOVERNOR.

Under the above title, the "Milwaukee organ" some two weeks ago, published a three column article written by a staff correspondent, in which the names of half a dozen Janesville men are used to bolster up a weak cause. The serious mistake made by the correspondent was that he didn't round up the whole bunch. A little time, and a small amount of space in the paper was all that was necessary.

Rock county has long been recognized as a stronghold of republicanism. It has the reputation of being loyal, as well as conservative. In the campaign of last year, the county had a candidate for governor, and had his name been presented to the convention, the county as well as the district, would have been unanimous in his support. When he withdrew in the interests of harmony, his supporters modestly retired, and permitted the handful of La Follette men to select delegates and handle the caucuses as they pleased.

In Janesville, the combined caucus attendance was less than the usual representation at a single ward. In one of the precincts, three men met in a barn and elected delegates. In another fourteen were present, and only one original La Follette man. This happened to be Senator Whitehead's ward, and after waiting an hour for officers to organize, the senator called to order and assisted in electing known La Follette men who were not present as delegates to the city convention. The same indifference prevailed throughout the city, and Senator Whitehead's friends, through courtesy, elected delegates that were in sympathy with Mr. La Follette.

If the Milwaukee correspondent was looking for facts, he was color blind, for any fourteen year old boy on the street could have furnished more reliable information than he obtained.

If Governor La Follette expects to carry Rock county, or the first congressional district for anything, it will be necessary for him to come down from his theoretical reform pedestal, and show a disposition to be governed by the will of the people.

The district furnished him a single representative in the last legislature. If he can derive any comfort from that sort of support, he is welcome to it.

Rock county republicans will support the regular nominees of the next republican convention. That is the sort of republicanism they believe in, and they are noted for practicing what they believe. If Governor La Follette is favored with renomination it will not be necessary for him to make a tour of the county, either by rail or wheel. If he fails of the nomination and is foolish enough to run independent, a trip through the county will be time wasted. The constituency is intelligent and does its own thinking. Nine-tenths of the voters today are not in sympathy with the governor's methods, and what is true of Rock county, is true to a large extent throughout the state.

The governor is universally respected as a man, but before he commands confidence as a leader, it will be necessary for him to change front and come down out of the clouds and fog, that have thus far characterized his administration.

Letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, congratulating Mr. Payne on his appointment, indicate that the governor's organs are trotting in a class by themselves. Mr. Payne, as well as Senator Spooner, enjoys a reputation that is more than state wide.

Pat Kearney of New Mexico has been appointed collector of customs at El Paso, much to the disgust of the Texas people, who favored a native of Texas. Kearney enjoys the reputation of killing "Billy, the Kid," a notorious outlaw, and is popular among the cowboys and rough riders of the west.

Western congressmen will do well to keep an ear near the ground during the holiday vacation, on the ship subsidy bill. The west wants a good many things, as badly as the east wants a merchant marine, and some of them are more practical.

The new ice law is to be tested by Chicago parties. It ought to be as full of holes as a skimmer. Wisconsin can hardly afford to speculate on air and frozen water. The innocent one-mill tax should furnish a surplus for a year or two at least.

If the state recovers the $400,000 from the United States government, reported by Claim Agent Comstock, it should be put into the school fund, along with the one-mill tax.

PRESS COMMENT.

If the legislative power is vested in the assembly and senate, what has La Follette to do with passing a law any more than any other citizen?—Palmira Enterprise.

Tomah Herald: God's patient poor that the governor sympathized with so warmly, will be patient indeed, if they wait for La Follette to help them out.

Marquette Eagle: It will be a difficult task for the half breed organs to reconcile the statements of the Free Press and Isaac Stephenson on the H. C. Payne episode.

Sheboygan Telegram: The Milwaukee Free Press, mouthpiece of La Follette and personal organ of Stephenson, vilifies President Roosevelt, when it says he made the appointment of Henry C. Payne "without knowing what he was doing."

Milwaukee Sentinel: Representative Cushman introduced a bill for the adoption of a universal language. Congress received it in universal silence and sympathetically tapped its universal head.

Appleton Crescent: If true, as alleged, that Congressman Minor, will lend his support to any sort of a ship subsidy measure, he must fully realize that his western constituency are opposed to any such bill and he will rue the day he lends his aid to the scheme.

Racine Journal: Admiral Sampson is filing a protest against the consideration of Admiral Dewey's addition which gives Admiral Schley the entire credit of the destruction of the Spanish fleet off Santiago. The country has filed its protest long ago against the claims of Admiral Sampson.

Osseo Recorder: While the La Follette newspapers may take the advice of the leading organ of the governor in Milwaukee and refuse to discuss the cut-rate train matter we are convinced from a perusal of our exchanges that the stalwarts intend that that train shall not be forgotten. Remember the cow!

The reformers have pooh poohed that La Follette train matter so that they flatter themselves it will not be heard from again. But they will find out their mistake at the proper time. They cannot laugh down nor silly gammon away so serious an affair.—Delavan Enterprise.

One thing Governor La Follette might do that would strengthen his cause. He might discard the mysterious, dark-lantern methods that have heretofore enveloped him, come out in the daylight and be honest with his people. Tell them straight why he considers himself dictator, and incidentally explain why taxes are so high this year.—Monroe Sentinel.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The press of Wisconsin never looked healthier than it does at the present time—due to the fact that the merchants are advertising their holiday goods, and thus seeking cash prices and quick sales. If advertising will sell goods just before Christmas it will sell goods just as quick after New Years. Try it.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Senator Hanna says: "I would rather have the credit of making a successful movement to bring labor and capital into closer relations of confidence and reliance than be president of the United States." It is evident that the people who are inclined to picture the senator as the personification of selfishness should revise their estimate of the man.

CHRISTMAS SUNDAY AT LOCAL CHURCHES

Large Congregations Were Attracted by the Special Music—Some Excellent Sermons.

The beautiful services of Christmas Sunday, as well as the beauty of the day, attracted large numbers of people to the various churches of the city and every pastor preached to well-filled pews. There were no elaborate decorations, bouquets of choice cut flowers and sprays of holly being all the decoration attempted in most of the churches. The Presbyterian church was especially beautiful with festoons of Christmas green, wreaths of holly and cut flowers.

Excellent sermons full of Christmas cheer and the true spirit of Christmas were preached by the pastors of the city, many of them giving their people a Christmas message at both morning and evening services. The choirs in all the churches had prepared special musical programs and all the services were enriched by beautiful singing.

THE VALUE OF A TELEPHONE.

is in the number of people it reaches with whom you wish to talk. The Rock Co. Telephone Co. has 800 subscribers in Janesville—twice as many as any other company—and connects with nearly 500 telephones in Beloit. And the number of independent or New phones with which it connects in this and neighboring counties, greatly exceeds that of other telephone companies.

A few illustrations:

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR HUSBANDS.

There are some disadvantages in being husbands. Of course, the advantages are tremendously preponderant. But even the woman who is perfectly satisfied with her lot and her husband—and her expressions of contentment, and of the exordiums upon the perfections of the man who has had the good judgment to choose her for his life partner, (though she doesn't say this, except by her manner,) has a faculty of needlessly irritating her sisters, yet unwon,—will admit that just about Christmas time husbands are bothers, because one doesn't know just what to give them.

If he is a reasonably new possession of course it is easier to choose for him. But after one has given him a smoking jacket, a lounging robe, and a bath robe, an umbrella, a smoking table and all the necessary equipments, has supplied him with collar and cuff buttons of which he already had sufficient quantity, reinforced his handkerchief supply and given him all the possible brushes and boxes demanded by his toilet, what is her next gift to be? There are too, husbands that are not smokers, and this fact necessitates the removal of several available articles from the gift list. There are birthdays, also, which have to be remembered, so after a few Christmases the wife is at a standstill in the matter of selecting presents for this difficult person.

There is one avenue open to her—she may get something for the house, and thereby reap her share of benefit from the gift. Many wives either from despair or from self-interest resort to gifts of this sort, but it does seem hardly a fair way to treat a man.

To relieve to any extent the perturbed condition of these ladies is a commendable object, and the following suggestions are submitted with that end in view.

Perhaps you have not yet given your husband a traveling bag or a dress suit case. These are useful things to have in the family and one can get them very cheap. A splendid suit case, of heavy sole leather, genuine leather lined and hand work, can be purchased for $5.

A fur trimmed cap of black broadcloth makes a handsome gift for a man who is fond of driving, and fur mounted and lined driving gloves or gauntlets may be made accessories to the gift, or presented separately.

German beer mugs or steins are usually appreciated. Here there is a wide range of choice and the prices run up from $1. A chafing dish is an acceptable gift to a man who has an idea that he is a better cook than his wife.

A novelty for husbands is the "bachelor's cabinet." It is of finely polished oak, and stands about two and half feet from the ground. Near the top a thick plate glass slide pulls out on which glasses can be placed containing tempting drinks. Beneath this slide is a drawer with compartments for boxes of cigars, receptacles for playing cards, chips, corkscrews, and the miscellaneous articles so necessary to masculine enjoyment. Below this drawer a door swings out on which are arranged racks for pipes and glasses and tobacco pouches. In the center of the cabinet is a revolving stand holding from six to eight bottles. This stand with a simple touch can be so manipulated as to bring any one bottle into reach. The whole cabinet, when closed, is but two feet square, and looks more like a musical cabinet than anything else.

Agricultural Secretary's Advice. Some years ago a Kansas farmer concluded to put out a crop of broomcorn. He wrote to the secretary of the Kansas Board of Agriculture asking what kind of broomcorn seed he ought to sow to reap the best results. "I haven't given the broomcorn question much thought," replied the secretary, "but I would advise you to plant the striped-handle brand, as that seems to be the best seller."—Kansas City Journal.

The Very Low Coll. Now that the hair is dressed low again, it is waved and sometimes parted slightly on the left side of the head, or else drawn evenly and loosely from the face into a coil that may be worn as low as desired. With evening bodices, the coil with ultra-fashionable women is extremely low, like the Langtry coiffure of other days.

The Original Shrew. The shrew was originally the shrew mouse, which, when her young were helpless, would fight desperately in their defense, and so well known was the courage of this little animal, which would even go out of its way to seek an enemy at times when the nest needed protection, that the word became applied to a woman who was ever ready to seek a quarrel.

A King's Privilege. The king of Siam sent five Siamese boys to the United States to be educated at his own expense. It is the king's custom to educate the sons of the noblemen and the princes of his domain in various countries, and when they return to Siam, appoint them to high government positions.

Welsh Language Is Going. The Welsh language appears to be approaching extinction. At a recent elistsed, at Dolgelly, one of the principal speakers stated that in 1871 as many as 1,006,109 persons spoke Welsh, but in 1891 the number had fallen to 911,250, a decrease of 95,811, though the population had meanwhile increased.

AMONG THE RAILROADS.

The engine men on the railroads running out of Janesville are finding out that the military leggin is as comfortable in the ice and snow of Wisconsin as in the tangled jungles of Luzon. The engine cabs are not very warm places. When you stand in front of the boiler head your face is good and warm but there is a cold blast comes in over the tank and the floor has numerous holes through which cold air comes with a force that is intensified by the force of the heat from the boiler. This makes it uncomfortable standing in the cabs and engineers have been adopting the heavy canvas leggin strapped tight about the calf and ankle beneath the overalls as a means of keeping out these cold draughts. They find them very comfortable, too, when they have to jump off into the ice and snow to oil or wipe the engine.

Engineer Bert Clough of the Superior Division of the Milwaukee road of Green Bay, and Miss Julia Tennis of the same place, were married at the parsonage of St. Willibrodus' church by the Rev. Father Van Sustere last Tuesday. L. Clough, a brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen, and Miss Emily Verheyden, a cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. After the ceremony a supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple left at once for Milwaukee and will after a week's trip, reside on South Jefferson street in Green Bay.

The recent and present cold snap gives lots of hard work to the train and engine men. It is cold along the line and in the yards, and the men feel it. The metal becomes cold, brittle, and the track rough. On the engine the parts not touched by heat, contract and the small tubes and apertures get so small and sometimes clogged by frost that they will not pass the fluid, water or oil that must pass through them. It takes more oil to run an engine, and even the headlight works dimly on account of the feed hole clogging up and blocking up a good part of the oil.

In Grandma's Day.

Women were straight and strong. They could walk or work side by side with the men of the family. They lived under healthier conditions; there was more simplicity and less strain. To-day it's different. The woman has all the care of the house and the wear of motherhood with duties superadded which were never dreamed of in Grandma's day. As a natural result she's worn out when she ought to be in the full beauty of mature womanhood. Women who would preserve their health and strength should guard the delicate womanly organs. When these are diseased the whole body suffers loss of strength and beauty. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases that weaken women. Inflammation, ulceration and female weakness promptly yield to the power of this great remedy.

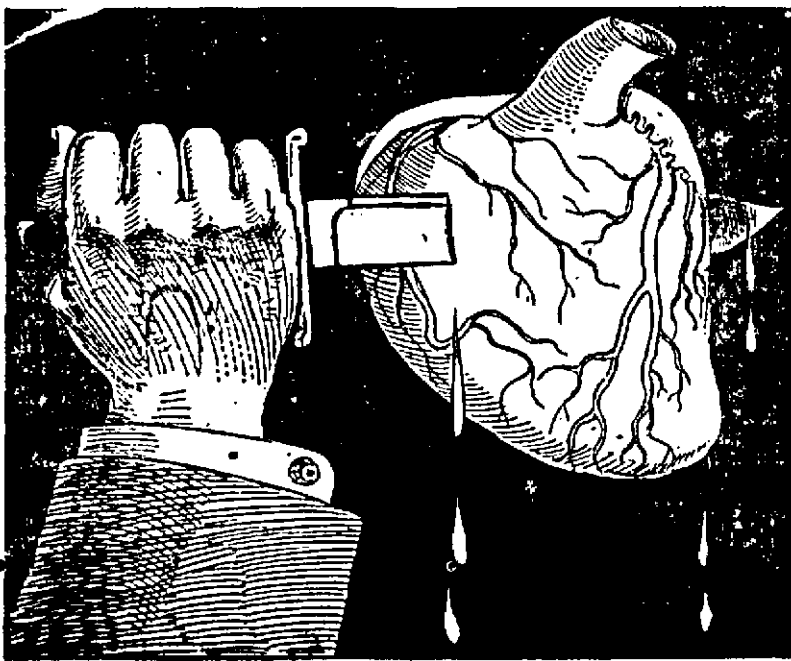

"I had been a great sufferer from female weakness for about two years," writes Mrs. Emma Richardson, of Gosh. Wayne Co., Ky. "I could not do my work part of the time. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and felt as well as I ever did."

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

Heart Disease

Some Facts Regarding the Rapid Increase of Heart Trouble.

Heart trouble, at least among the Americans, is certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain valuable, harmless, digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

"A cup full of Mrs. Austin's Wheat Food makes breakfast for seven persons, hence is more economical than any similar preparation."

FIRST DEMAND IS TO "MAKE THE TIME"

Primary Requirements from a Railroad Man—Must Cut to Time Card at all Hazards.

A railroad engineer of many years' experience in taking over the Perryville disaster, put the blame for railroad horrors in general on the public, says the Freeport Democrat. "The public," he said, "demands fast time; it wants to get from place to place in the fewest possible hours; it wants to get its mail over night and have its freight delivered on express time. Railroad officials pander to the public and require the men first of all to make time. What is first demanded of engineers who get the best places, both on freight and passenger runs, is not that they shall be safe, reliable and trustworthy, but that they shall make speed. On passenger runs the time is cut down to the lowest possible limit; the schedules are made out on the basis of the best the engine can do under the most favorable circumstances, and then an engineer is required to make it under all conditions. If he can't, or won't, take the most desperate chances and run down to the time card, he is first set down and finally let out.

"A few years ago on western roads a burst of speed of forty miles an hour was thought to be dangerously fast, but now no one thinks he is going anywhere unless he is traveling fifty or sixty miles an hour, and spurts of seventy-five or eighty miles an hour are not considered at all remarkable. The one thing an engineer thinks of after he gets into his cab for an express run is to make his time; to do it he has to push the machine to her limit every single minute and even seconds count. It is a strain, constant, wearing and sometimes heart-breaking, from one end of the run to the other. The high speed they have to make is shortening the lives of engineers ten years to the man, but they go on doing it for their bread and butter, primarily, and to satisfy their pride to be called good men.

"Such accidents as that at Perryville breaks the courage of the men; they get on their nerves. They all know Dave Behan was careful, one of the most careful who ever sat in a cab, yet the time came when he made a mistake of some sort, and they don't know whose turn it will be to make the next one, possibly mine or that of some other man in the business. We can't help thinking about that, you know.

"I don't suppose there will be any lessening of the speed however much we engineers may protest; the public wants fast riding, and the officials will make me, Palmer, Powell, Kyle or somebody pull the trains up to the very limits of our engines; but if we do have to make even shorter schedules, for God's sake let the officials give us, and let the public demand double tracks, block systems and any and every device that will make it safer for us.

When we speak of the anger, really, "it is not of ourselves we think but of the passengers behind and the families at home."

HANOVER.

Hanover, Dec. 21.—The new hotel keeper, Mr. W. Seidmore, gave a dance and supper Thursday night.

There will be a Christmas tree and program at Trinity church Christmas eve.

There will be English services and program at St. Paul's Wednesday night.

Mr. E. G. Brosen was in the city today on business.

The school gave a concert and a Christmas tree Friday afternoon. The children show marked improvement in their school work.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

Ten Nights in a Bar Room
Ten Nights in a Bar Room never grows old. There runs through it a vein of pathos peculiarly touching and sweet. It speaks the universal language of the heart. It reflects like a prism the innermost phases of the human emotion. It is more than a play. It is a moral classic. It argues for one of the greatest themes that can engage the mind. Notwithstanding its frequent production, it is seldom that one sees the play as it is now presented by Busby Bros.' colossal spectacular company. It is like meeting an old friend after many years. The management doubtless believes in the maxim: "What's worth doing is worth doing well." They have brought together in this production all the requisites that go to make up a first-class entertainment. The play will appear at the Myers opera house matinee and evening Dec. 25.

Excursion Rates for the Holidays
Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold at low rates to points on the North-Western System within 200 miles of selling station, December 24, 25, 31 and January 1, good returning until January 2, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

For Over Fifty Years.
Mrs. WINDLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children while teething. It soothes the child; softens the gums; allays all pain from wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggist throughout the whole world.

An Electric Cutter.
An electric cutter was recently put in the shirt factory located at Butler, Pa. The cutting is done with a circular knife, about six inches in diameter, which makes 2,500 revolutions a minute. It is kept sharp by two miniature emery wheels attached above it. With this machine a man can cut nearly twice as many garments per day as by hand. The power is furnished by a dynamo attached to a gas engine.

Newspaper Accounts of Rebellion.
After forty years of incessant toil Thomas S. Townsend has placed in the library of Columbia University 121 volumes, containing nearly 100,000 pages, of the newspaper and magazine accounts of the war of the rebellion from beginning to end. It is a work to which Mr. Townsend has practically dedicated his life, and its value to history is almost priceless.

Old Age Pensions in France.
The proposed law for old age pensions meets with much opposition in France, on the ground that the age at which the pension falls due, 65, is far beyond the average life of the French workman. Many labor organizations have protested and all on the same ground, that their members have no mind to lay by from their wages money by which they personally are little likely to profit.

A New York Joke.
Gunter K. Ackerman is as bald as a dishpan, notwithstanding the fact that he is yet a comparatively young man. When asked a few days ago as to the cause of his premature baldness Secretary Ackerman replied: "When I was on the Star, in John Kelly's time, the politicians who used to call at the office were accustomed to spinning me around on my head for drinks."

Heart Disease

retards the circulation, weakens the stomach, deranges digestion, pollutes the blood, destroys the nervous force and saps the vitality of the whole system. It causes pains in the side, palpitation, shortness of breath, smothering, dropsical swellings, sinking spells, and frequently ends all suffering in sudden death. Why tempt death when a cure is within easy reach?

"My head would get so hot it seemed to be burning up, while my feet were like ice. My limbs would swell and get numb. I had to sit in a chair day and night for months and my heart throbbed and pained me terribly. After using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I could do a good day's work."

NAPOLEON THE MAN.

A NEARBY VIEW OF BONAPARTE'S PRIVATE LIFE.

Personal Appearance and Traits of Consul and Emperor—Home Life and Manners—The King of Rome, Parlor From Josephine.

(Copyright, 1901, by G. L. Kilmer.)

out redeeming traits is simply an indictment of the age in which he arose to marvelous power and importance. He was the product of his time. After having been the foremost figure in Europe for fifteen years he ended his career at the age of forty-five, the time of life when most men of affairs are just coming to the goal of ambition.

Napoleon began to be a prominent and, in the eyes of some people, a dangerous personage when he returned from Egypt to France. His enemies in the army and in the republican councils called him a deserter from the army because he had returned to Paris without authority. A conspiracy was formed between the directory and Moreau and Bernadotte to arrest and execute him. The motto of the conspirators was, "If we do not kill him, he will kill us." The portrait of Napoleon as he was then, in the second year of his consulate and after his marriage to Josephine, has been drawn by the faithful hand of his secretary, Baron de Meneval, who was close to his person daily for many years.

Napoleon was then, he says, moderately stout, but the stoutness increased later on by the frequent use of baths, which he took to refresh himself after fatigue. He was of mediocre stature, about 5 feet 2 inches, and well built, though the trunk was rather long. His head was big and the skull largely developed. The shoulders were broad and the neck short, while the size of the chest bespoke a robust constitution, not so robust, however, as the mind. The legs were well shaped, foot small and well formed. He was proud of his hands, which were delicate and plump, with tapering fingers. A high and broad forehead, penetrating and wonderfully mobile gray eyes and a straight, well shaped nose gave to the figure that stamp of nobility and dignity which are inseparable from all of Napoleon's painted portraits. The features were remarkably regular, teeth good, mouth perfect and chin prominent. His skin was smooth and complexion pale. When away in Egypt, he had his hair cut short, a contrast to the style of his student days and the first Italian campaign.

Meneval's portrait would be incomplete without recalling the hat, bare of trimming or lace, ornamented by a little tricolor cockade, fastened with black silk cord, and the gray surcoat which covered the uniform of the guard. The hat and surcoat became historical, contrasting as they did, and that strongly, with the gold and silver embroidered coats of the generals and the numerous civil and military attaches of the imperial household.

Meneval adds other particulars about Napoleon's everyday expressions of countenance. When under excitement, the emperor's face assumed a terrible expression. His eyes flashed fire, and his nostrils dilated, swollen with the passion within. Yet he never lost control, and as time went on the explosions became less frequent. His head remained cool under excitement, and the blood never rose to it. When in good humor and anxious to please, Napoleon's expression was soft and caressing and his face lit by a smile. When alone with familiar friends, his laugh was loud and a trifle insincere.

During the first year of his consulate Napoleon was affected with a disease which seriously deranged his health and temper. The nature and origin were similar to those of the affliction which Nelson suffered under all his life. At the siege of Toulon Napoleon directed one of the batteries, and during a fight one of the gunners was killed. In order that the fire of that gun should not slacken the enthusiastic lieutenant seized the rammer which dropped from the hands of the dead man and fired the cannon several times. Some days later he was troubled with a malignant skin disease, and it transpired that the dead gunner had been infected. In his zeal for the work of the campaign Napoleon failed to undergo treatment, and the disease gained such headway that in Italy and Egypt he was thin and weak and never recovered until after he became emperor.

Meneval says that when called to the service of Napoleon he expected to find his master brusque and of stiff temper, but instead the first consul was easy to please, even merry and kindly at times. Napoleon's familiarity, however, was not destructive of dignity. The prevailing impression of him at the time was that of a father in the midst of his family. Napoleon lunched alone upon the simplest dishes and profited by this hour to talk to persons who interested him, men of letters, artists and scientists. He always dined with his family and afterward, when there was no work to do, repaired to the drawing room to play chess. He talked in a familiar way, was fond of discussions, but not given to opinions himself nor to any pretension on account of his rank. Whenever the company was chiefly of womankind he told them stories of a tragical or satirical turn and was partial to ghost stories. Napoleon had the habit of working at night with his secretary. After an hour's sleep he would be as fresh as if he had slept the whole night. Before lying down he would say to Meneval, "Be here at 7 o'clock, and we will work together."

Napoleon had the snuff habit, but not from appetite. In moments of preoccupation he would sniff at the pinchers. His ideas were developed as he dictated, with a force of expression which showed that his mind was upon the subject in hand. He seldom ate heartily during these long hours of work, but a cook was at call and frequently brought in very light refreshments.

When Napoleon awoke from sheer sleeplessness at night, he would forbid that his secretary should be aroused and let him sleep until 7 o'clock. He often worked alone at his papers at night. He had a marvelous memory for military details, even to the composition and material of each corps. The spelling and pronunciation of proper names bothered him, but the mention of a name called up instantly everything connected with it. When dictating an answer to an important dispatch or elaborating a difficult plan, he would walk back and forth to the end of the dictation. Napoleon wrote little, for his hand was too slow for his brain. He was a poor speller himself, but a sharp critic of the spelling of others. When there was no state work to do, the emperor was ill at ease. He would pass an hour with Josephine, then take a nap upon the settee. After that he would enter the workroom and either talk at random with Meneval about his own personality, his mania, his health and his plans or begin to tease him with horseplay. He read but little in those days, but was familiar with books and the character of their authors and would read or recite from the tragedies of Corneille and Voltaire.

Meneval declares that Napoleon was not superstitious and had firm faith in Providence as well as firmly rooted religious ideas. He once attempted to master anatomy and was too sensitive to endure the ordeal. But on the battlefield Napoleon would dismount from the saddle, lift up a helplessly wounded man and place a flask to his lips. He was careful about hurting the feelings of people about him, always spoke kindly to serving people and once, after rebuking a page with such epithets as "clumsy clout," called him up and kindly instructed him in his duties.

Meneval witnessed the parting of Napoleon and Josephine. The emperor, he says, fell upon a settee in a brief depression of spirits. After some time he arose and, taking his secretary with him, went to the apartments of the empress. Josephine was alone, also in a state of sad depression, but she sprang forward and threw her arms around Napoleon's neck. Napoleon kissed her again and again, and she finally swooned in his arms. The emperor then placed her in the arms of Meneval and, ordering him not to leave her, rapidly left the room and the building, never to see her again.

Among the sincere friendships of the man Bonaparte, Meneval names the soldiers Desaix, Lannes, Duroc, Bessieres and Muron. He was devoted to his son, the king of Rome. He kept him by the hour in the workroom of state and with him on his knee read reports and signed dispatches. Again, putting aside his public duties, he would lie down on the floor beside the child and play like a child himself. For the working out of battlefield maneuvers Napoleon had some blocks of mahogany to represent squadrons and battalions in line. They were of different colors, with fretted tops, and sometimes the kinglet would swoop down on the field and disarrange the combination just as the enemy was getting the worst of it.

At other times Napoleon would tease his little son, but could never catch him the second time with a practical joke. Once the child turned resolutely away from the sport, and the lady in waiting said that he didn't like to have people try to deceive him. "Ah," said Napoleon, "he is proud and sensitive. It is well. Because he is like that I love him!"

Pale Faces tell when Vinol is needed.

We gladly refund money paid for Vinol if it does not give satisfaction. We know it makes rich, red blood and pale, weak women and children strong and rosy.

How Vinol Helped Mrs. Hindle.

"Count me one among the thousands of people who can say from experience that Vinol is a splendid tonic and builder. For some time my health had been failing until I got so weak I could do no housework and was compelled to break up housekeeping. I tried different patent medicines, but seemed to get no better. I had heard of the virtues of Vinol. I decided to try a bottle of Vinol. I had taken only a few doses of Vinol before I felt a change for the better. I continued with the medicine and it helped me. My appetite improved. I felt my strength returning. I never before saw such a remarkable tonic as Vinol; it seems to reach out to every part of the body. Then, too, it is such an agreeably flavored medicine to take. Oh! it is splendid."—Mrs. A. H. HINDLE, Thaxter's Court, Bangor, Me.

A Boy Cured of Hanging-on Cough by Vinol.

"My boy had a very bad cough, has always had it every winter since he was a little child. Have tried several kinds of remedies but never got such good results as from Vinol. He took one bottle of Vinol and cough is entirely gone. Something unknown before. I think Vinol deserves great praise for the work."—AKRON O. MASON, Biddeford, Me.

Vinol is such a simple and wholesome remedy that it is hard to believe it has such curative power—yet we know its value so that we unreservedly endorse it for tired, run down and nervous women and business men, and it is a fine tonic for weakly children and old people.

OLD SETTLERS GO TO THEIR REWARD

FOUR PIONEER RESIDENTS OF ROCK COUNTY DEAD.

They Are Selden E. Otis; Henry S. Lugg; Mrs. Mary C. Spalding and Mrs. Ellen Addy—Details of the Death and Notices of the Funeral

Selden E. Otis, one of Rock county's best known and most highly esteemed farmers, died at his home in the town of Rock yesterday morning at 8 o'clock after a brief illness which had confined him to his bed for three or four days only. Deceased was seventy-four years of age and had resided in Rock county forty-six years, being a resident of the town of Harmony for eight years and of the town of Rock for the last thirty-eight years.

Deceased was born in Saybrook, Conn. and was educated in his native state. When twenty years old he went to New York state where he remained for five years before coming to Wisconsin. Mr. Otis was one of the leading citizens of Rock township and was honored with many offices of trust. For several terms he served as justice of the peace and he served ably as county supervisor. For over twenty years he was clerk of the school board and he took the greatest of interest in the duties of this office, doing much for the advancement of the cause of education in the community. Politically he was an ardent supporter of the republican party from its very organization and he was well informed on all matters of public interest.

For several years Mr. Otis conducted a dairy in connection with his farming and he thus came in close touch with many people in this city. He was a kindly man whose heart and home were always open to his friends and his honest, upright life inspired and held the confidence of all who knew him. The world is far better for his living in it and his memory will be cherished with love by the many who were privileged to call him friend.

In 1849 Mr. Otis was married in marriage with Miss Mary Carrell and their life together has been ideal in its happiness and helpfulness, its mutual care for each other and thoughtfulness for friends. Early in 1899 their golden wedding was joyously celebrated at the home farm. Besides the bereaved widow, two sons and four daughters are left to mourn the death of a beloved father. They are George and Frank Otis of the town of Rock; Mrs. J. C. Burt, Chicago; Mrs. Lillian Eddy, and Mrs. Harriet Schneider, both of Kankakee, Ill., and Mrs. Jessie Kilmer, of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the home tomorrow afternoon at 12:45 o'clock, Rev. Robert C. Denison officiating.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLEN ADDY

Result of a Stroke of Paralysis—Funeral at 3 p. m.

Life's burden dropped from the weary shoulders of Mrs. Ellen Addy, widow of William T. Addy, yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, her death being the result of a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Addy was found Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock lying prostrate on the floor and nearly perished with cold, the coal fire having gone out. Mrs. Addy was in her night dress and her hands were covered with coal dust she evidently having been engaged in trying to rebuild the fire when her strength forsook her. Help was summoned at once and the best of care taken of the stricken woman but the infirmities of old age came off conqueror. Her son Emmett was telegraphed for but before he and his wife arrived yesterday morning from Minneapolis she had become unconscious and she failed rapidly until the end.

Mrs. Addy was seventy-seven years of age, having been born in Brandywine, Del., Aug. 8, 1824. When a young girl she went to New York City and there she was married coming with her husband to Janesville in 1845. They built the home at the corner of Franklin and Dodge streets, it then being the largest house in the little village. In this house Mrs. Addy lived for over fifty-six years. She had been a widow for about thirty-three years and the greater part of her later life she spent alone. Retiring in nature she did not seek many friends and those who knew her best loved her best.

She leaves one brother, Bernard Cosgrove of New York; three sons, Robert, of Oklahoma; Emmett, of Minneapolis, who is now here, and Thomas of New York City, who will arrive tomorrow. There are also six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Franklin street home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. J. T. Henderson officiating.

Came to This City from England With His Family in 1885.

Henry S. Lugg, for many years a resident of this city was graduated from earth's probation into the life of the higher and eternal service on yesterday, his death occurring at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Tonkin, at Carpentersville, Ill. Deceased was in the seventeenth year of his life and was a native of England, having been born in Cornwall, Feb. 2, 1882.

Mr. Lugg and his family came to this city from England in 1885 and he resided here until a month ago. He was a member of the Court street M. E. church and his happy Christian faith was exemplified in his daily life. His kindly way, his genial face and his friendly hand clasp have cheered many an acquaintance and inspired all who knew him with a deep desire for the spiritual gifts in which his nature was so rich. None knew him but to love him and to be helped by him.

By his death five children are left with the priceless heritage of beautiful memories of a good father's life.

They are the Rev. E. H. Lugg, White Hall, Ill.; Mrs. W. C. Tonkin, Carpentersville, Ill.; Mrs. F. K. Wells, New York City; Mrs. C. Sandell, Beloit, and Rev. John J. Lugg, Milwaukee.

The remains will be brought to this city via the C. & N. W. road tomorrow morning, arriving here at 11:30 o'clock and will be taken direct to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

MRS. MARY C. SPALDING

Funeral from the Home Tomorrow, afternoon at 3 o'clock

Mrs. Mary C. Spalding entered into her rest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Reynolds, at 11 o'clock on Sunday night. Her release came after a long illness which began last May and through all of which she had been a patient sufferer, sustained by a strong and simple Christian faith. She had retained her faculties and her interest in her friends, particularly her young friends to a remarkable degree.

Mrs. Spalding was born in Columbia, Herkimer county, N. Y., in 1816 and had been a widow for thirty-three years. Since her husband's death she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Reynolds, with whom she lived in Janesville for thirteen years. During her residence in this city she was a member of the Congregational church. Besides her daughter and two grandsons, Frank and Charles Reynolds, Mrs. Spalding leaves a sister, Mrs. Deles Hatch of Mohawk, N. Y., and a brother, Mr. Henry Clapsaddle, of Shabbona, Ill.

The funeral services will be held from the home, 254 South Jackson street, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kimberley

E. O. Kimberley today received the sad news of the death of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kimberley, who passed away at her home in Broadhead early this morning. Mrs. Kimberley was eighty-seven years of age and had been confined to her bed for several months. The funeral will be held at Broadhead tomorrow afternoon.

The mask ball to be given this evening by the members of Co. I promises to be the fun event of the season.

Headquarters for rugs, of all kinds. That's just the kind of a store Bort, Bailey & Co. are running.

Bring in your pictures. New stock of mouldings just received all new designs. J. H. Myers.

Christmas hop will take place at East Side Odd Fellows' hall after Prof. Kehl's dancing classes.

We have sweet oranges. Dedricks. No better oranges grown than our Redlands navels. Dedricks.

Beautiful assortment of fine box stationery. Just the thing for a Christmas gift at Skelly's book store.

Christmas slippers for men and women. Prices run from 45c up and the selection is unrivaled in this city. Maynard Shoe Co.

What is Christmas without Holly and where else can you buy holly to better advantage than at Richter Bros.

Glassware, china pieces, toilet sets, lamps, rugs, dry goods, fancy articles, clothing at clean-up prices before Christmas. Fair.

At $1 each Bort, Bailey & Co. have placed on sale 200 rugs. At this low price it is quite evident that the public will not be slow in buying.

Everybody get your suits ready for Co. I masquerade at the Armory, this evening. Baldwin & Rehfeld's orchestra will furnish the music.

Mufflers, neck wear, suspenders, umbrellas, fancy sox, and many other articles for Christmas at cut rates. Amos Rehberg & Co.

Looks as though the plineries had moved to Richter Bros., the big lot of Christmas trees they have are attracting buyers.

A sale of books. Every book in the store for less than cost. Now is the time to buy your Christmas books. J. H. Myers.

Everybody is invited to attend the masquerade to be given this evening by members of Co. I. There will be plenty of fun for those who attend.

We are going to close out every bit of Christmas stock we have, don't want a dollar's worth of these goods left if we can help it. Prices will move the stock; there will be no question about quick sales. Amos Rehberg & Co.

But few stores carry the large line of first class jewelry as shown this year by Bort, Bailey & Co. Fifty cents goes a long way here in the purchase of an article that other stores would ask twice the money for.

If you want to make all your relatives and friends Christmas presents and haven't enough money to go around at the high priced stores, drop in at the Fair. A dollar will go a long way.

Smoking jackets are supposed to be out of the reach of most people—but go with the extensive line we have; any of them you can have at 45c—the same garment others ask 6, 7, 8, and $9 for. Amos Rehberg & Co.

The dry goods firm of Bort, Bailey & Co. have the most complete display of rugs ever shown in the city. These rugs are in all sizes from the small ordinary mat to the large floor covering.

Late Christmas buyers will find at the F. C. Cook & Co. store a recent shipment of the latest novelties known to the trade. Prices that will induce buying are being made now by this reliable firm.

All lamps go at clean-up prices to reduce holiday stock. Lamps from 20c to $6—all styles and kinds from the kitchen or stand lamp to the prettiest decorated shade lamp imaginable. The Fair.

If you want to make merry and have the time of your life attend the mask ball to be given this evening by members of Co. I. Good music will help make the event one long to be remembered.

Your husband will take comfort and the solid kind too out of one of those $5 smoking jackets. So many patterns you can't help finding just the one to please you. Amos Rehberg & Co.

So many men smoke pipes that there is really no more appropriate gift for Christmas. Men can't have too many pipes. They would appreciate one from this specially selected stock of mine. J. L. Spellman.

Smoking jackets $5. The regular 6, 7, 8, and $9 kind. A most extensive line. New patterns well trimmed. Why not one for Christmas? Amos Rehberg & Co.

The large display advertisement. The Fair tells of a clean-up Christmas sale which means much to economical buyers. The reputation of this store as the lowest priced sellers of all merchandise will be strengthened through this clean-up sale.

Christmas shoppers will find at the F. C. Cook & Co. jewelry store a complete assortment of jewelry that was purchased for late shoppers. This line has just been placed on sale at popular prices.

Holiday shoppers have invaded the dry goods store of Bort, Bailey & Co. this week in such numbers that at times it was almost impossible to move about the spacious stores. This well-known firm have this year the most complete stock carried by any dry goods house in the state outside of the city of Milwaukee.

The prices that F. C. Cook & Co. are making on standard quality goods in the way of holiday gifts is the best advertisement any firm could have, and they are reaping daily benefits in the way of an immense trade.

At the Saving Store this week a special line of doll carriages have been placed on sale at $1.25 each. These carriages are made of wire and are made to stand all kinds of wear and tear no matter how much they are knocked about by the children. It means a saving of money to invest in this kind.

GOLD COIN FOR 1901

Rock County National Bank Receives First Shipment

The first shipment of the 1901 coinage of Gold Coin to be received in the city this year has just come to the Rock County National Bank. The money is in the denominations of $10, $5 and $2 1/2 pieces and is bright and new, directly from the United States mints. Gold coin of the $2.50 size has not been common of late, in fact but few of this denomination have been in circulation about the city. This sort of money is very popular with many people as Christmas gifts and the Rock County bank secured this invoice for the accommodation of those who desire to use it in this manner.

MODEL LAUNDRY OPEN TO PUBLIC

New Quarters of the Janesville Steam Laundry Could Not Be Improved On.

The residents of this city and the visitors within its gates may well be congratulated on having within reach the excellent facilities offered by the Janesville Steam Laundry. For producing the most popular service in laundry work the plant, which a standard laundry rates which are short time ago removed to its new and modern quarters at 27 South Main street, has been established for the past twenty years. During that time an excellent reputation for superior work has been built up which is entirely due to the enterprising efforts of the management.

The equipment comprises the latest and most improved laundry machinery and a number of experienced employees are kept constantly engaged. Only first class work is done the highest quality being guaranteed while the prices charged are the standard laundry rates which are both reasonable and popular. All work is executed in a prompt and superior manner and without injury to the garments the very finest fabric receiving the attention of eminently skilled persons, while hand work is a specialty.

This laundry uses nothing but condensed water which is the finest water known for washing flannels and other garments.

This condenser, the only one in Rock county, has been added to the establishment at great expense. All water used passes through this condenser which guarantees pure soft water. Flannels are also given special attention and are washed in a manner that is guaranteed not to shrink them. The management of this industry, by energetic methods, have pushed this business to the front giving to the citizens of Janesville and the surrounding territory metropolitan advantages.

BABY QUENTIN DISSATISFIED

Youngest Roosevelt Longs For the Freedom of His Old Home.

Quentin, the youngest son of President Roosevelt, is the only member of the family who can boast the Capital City as a birthplace. He was born just prior to the Spanish-American war at 1735 N street, Washington, while his father was organizing the rough riders. He often wears a little rough rider's uniform, and the attendants of the White House must maneuver through all drills whenever the infant warrior takes a notion.

Quentin does not think much of Washington as a place of residence, says the New York World. The other day he desired to walk through the flower beds on stilts. His father told him that the gardener objected. The youngster answered:

"I don't see what good it does for you to be president. There are so many things we can't do here. I wish I was home again."

New Species of Otter.

Way down in South America, from Guiana to Argentina, there has been discovered the ariranha, recognized as the largest species of the otter. It grows to a length of five feet. The oddest thing about it is that its skin seems to be much too large for its body, says the Philadelphia Times. In liveliness it surpasses even the playful seal. An ariranha has been tamed and has a bound for its playfellow. At a certain hour the captive goes to the door of its cage and there whines and yells until turned loose in the garden, where it rushes around, barking joyously. It deftly catches the fish thrown to it and skillfully prevents the dog from appropriating any of the food.

Couldn't Stand a Shawl.

When Sir John Tenniel, the famous cartoonist, was asked why he had never married he replied: "Well, if I had married a girl she would always have wanted to be going about all over the place, and that would not have suited me, while, on the other hand, if I had married an elderly lady she would have worn a shawl, and that I could not have stood."

Delegate's Wife Owns Newspaper.

Those Canny Scots.

The Glasgow exhibition came out with a profit of $400,000, while the Pan-American lost three millions. The canny Scot takes his pleasure with an eye to money-making still.—New York Press.

ANNOYING THE PRESIDENT.

Reply Sent to a Woman Who Lectured Him For Sabbath Breaking.

Among the annoyances of a president's life are the intrusions of well intentioned people upon his private and personal affairs, says Harper's Weekly. He is the common property of the nation. He has no home, or as little of one as the public is compelled to leave him. He is worse off than any private citizen in the country in this respect, for when he and his wife ask some friends to call on them on a certain day of the week persons who are not asked and who do not know them accept the invitation which was not given them and go also. Not so annoying perhaps are the people who open upon the president as teachers of personal morality. They have no delicacy. They rush in where they are not asked, and they insist that now the president is in the White House he shall conform his life to theirs, shall live as they think is right and is a monster of iniquity if he does not accept their tutelage. There is not a president who has escaped them, and there never will be until we have a score or so of presidents each of whom will not heed them, who will not answer their letters, who will insist on having his own habits and on living according to his own light and not according to the light of another.

We have recently had a temperance president who has been called a drunkard because some one said he saw him drink a glass of champagne at dinner. Denials of the truth of the statement merely whetted the appetite for obfuscation. And now we have another president, a very abstemious man, who receives letters nearly every day whose writers express the regret that we have a "winebibber" in the White House. These letters, we are told, are not answered, but a reply was sent to the woman who reminded the president of the commandment, "Six days shalt thou labor," and then lectured him for Sabbath breaking. The reply was written by Secretary Cortelyou and was this:

"I am directed by the president to say that he goes to church on Sunday morning and takes his wife and children into the country Sunday afternoon."

"To which of these occupations do you object?"

Dignity of Schwab's Coachman.

President Schwab of the billion dollar steel trust says that he was driving through a little town near Pittsburgh the other day with his colored man seated beside him, when he heard one woman say to another: "There's the great Mr. Schwab." "Which one?" said the other, evidently impressed with the colored man's dignity.

Mrs. A. F. Rice has gone to Southern Illinois to spend Christmas with her parents.

THE LIMEKILN CLUB.

Brother Gardner Lectures on the Subject of Dreams.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]

"De odder evenin'." began Brother Gardner as he rose up after the close of the regular proceedings of the Limekiln club—"De odder evenin' Samuel Shin came cher to my cabin an' woke me up out of a sound sleep to tell me dat a great calamity was at hand an' to ask for my advice. He had fallen asleep in his cheer by de stove an' had dreamed dat he saw a black cat chasin' a white rat up an ehn tree. He had dreamed dat same dream three times befo' in his life, an' a calamity allus followed. I had slasly throwed him ober de fence when Waydown Bebee arose. He had also been dreamin'. He had dreamed of seein' a black man on a white boss in chase of a yaller cow, an' he was suah dat his wife was gwine to drop dead or his eul in burn up. Next day I made some inquiries an' diskivered dat about half de members of dis club carry dream books around wid 'em an' believe in 'em as dey do in deir Bibles.

"I jess want to remark a few remarks on dis matter of dreams. Dar was a time in my life when I didn't know de fore kick from de hind kick of a newel, an' when I walked up an' down de road lookin' fur hundred dollar bills. In dose days I was a fool, an' bein' a fool I believed in dreams. If I dreamed dat I saw yaller cuts sittin' on de roof of a yaller barn I believed dat somebody was gwine to die an' leave me fo' hundred dollars.

"If I dreamed dat I saw a white boss gallopin' across a green meadow in chase of a bridled dog I believed dat I should find a diamond pin in de back yard.

"If I dreamed dat I saw a black hog walkin' around wid a white ribbon tied to his tail, I believed it meant sickness in de fam'ly an' de loss of my job.

"I'll tell yo' what cured me. One night an angel come to me in my dreams an' patted me on de head an' beckoned me to foller her. I follered, an' she led de way to a coop whar ten fat pullets was waitin' to be pulled off de roost. In my dream I pulled 'em, an' I got safe away, an' dem chickens was yum, yum. I dreamed dat dream three times dat night, an' next day I took a walk an' spotted de coop. When night fell ag'in, I was dar. Ten fat pullets waited me. So did a man an' a shotgun. I had jess grabbed de fust pullet when he fired a charge of bird shot into me, an' though I've bin pickin' fur years I hain't got 'em all picked out yet.

"I ain't gwine to say dat as members of de Limekiln club yo' must do thus an' so to please me, but I am gwine to remark dat tonight I shall probably dream of seein' fo' old coons chasin' fo' young possums up a steep hill, while a 'doubledaw' an' a 'cross-eyed cat' am lookin' on at de fun. Yes, I shall probably dream it, an' if I do I shall ux Samuel Shin fur de dollar dat he owes me, eul on Givendam Jones to return dat coat of mine, an' give Waydown Bebee five mints to squar up dat old note of his. If I meet up wid Elder Penstock I shall hit him on de jaw fur his mother's sake, an' if Swamproot Taylor, Torpedo Johnson or Moses Hookingham git in my way I'll make human wrecks of 'em. Don't any of yo' go out of de dream bizness on my account, but jess h'ar it in mind dat I kin dream two dreams to yo'r one, an' every single one of 'em will mean achin' hearts fur at least three members of dis club. Dat's all, an' we will now go home an' dream of seein' a blue colored dawg chasin' a chocolate colored woodchuck around a plum colored conifid."

M. QUAD.

Not in His Line.

Gayboy—I say, parson, this lady and myself want to get spliced. Will you oblige us by tying the knot?

Parson—Um—let me see. If I remember correctly, I married you and this same lady two years ago.

Gayboy—Tight you are, parson, but you see we were divorced six months ago, and now we want to couple up again.

Parson—Well, you'll have to go elsewhere. I'm not running a repair department in connection with my business.—Chicago News.

Noblemen Who Preach.

An English paper mentions the names of some ten noblemen who are frequent preachers. Of these five are ordained priests of the Established church, and one is a bishop who is a "lord" in his own right. Among these peers who are preachers is included Lord Kinnaird, an acknowledged authority on football, but not less resolute and zealous as a lay preacher.

Buried Treasure Trick Worked.

American consuls in Spain receive frequent complaints from their countrymen that they have been swindled by the old buried treasure trick. The victims are induced to advance money for the purpose of recovering supposed large sums buried by political prisoners.

A lazy liver makes a lazy man. Burdock Blood Bitters is the natural, never failing remedy for a lazy liver.

Ordinary household accidents have no terrors when there's a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the Medicine chest. Heals burns, cuts, bruises, sprains. Instant relief.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence; it is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed. C. F. Cornwell, Valley Street, Saugerties, N. Y.

Ask for Federal Protection.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 23.—The St. Bernard Coal company, recently incorporated in Delaware, filed a petition in the federal court for an injunction against President Woods and others of the United Mine Workers of America to prevent them molesting the plaintiff's property or employees. The St. Bernard company was incorporated outside of Kentucky so that it could ask for federal protection. Judge Evans granted a temporary order.

Freight Wreck Delays Traffic.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 23.—A freight wreck occurred on the Northern Pacific two miles west of Garrison, and as a result twenty cars of merchandise are lying at the bottom of the Missoula river and traffic is suspended, three overland passenger trains being held at Missoula.

Rumor of Express Combine.

New York, Dec. 23.—The organization of a hundred million dollar express company, to take over all the express business of the country, is the talk of Wall street. The four big express companies have been working in harmony for a long time.
